

COMIC INK

"KAPOW! COMIC BOOK AND POP CULTURE COLLIDE."

Phillip Emmons

OUR STORY

Users will encounter a friendly splash page as they arrived at our site with some scrolling comic book covers ranging from the early fifties and up. All guest are welcome to browse our comic collection or North American conventions. Users will be presented with a display of our comic books available. They are welcome to sort through the collection by title, creator, publisher, or any combination, and present the list in a multitude of order.

BONUS

A bonus feature to all comic collectors is the ability to see if the Comic Book Creator is being headlined at one of the North American conventions by clicking on the autograph hyperlink.

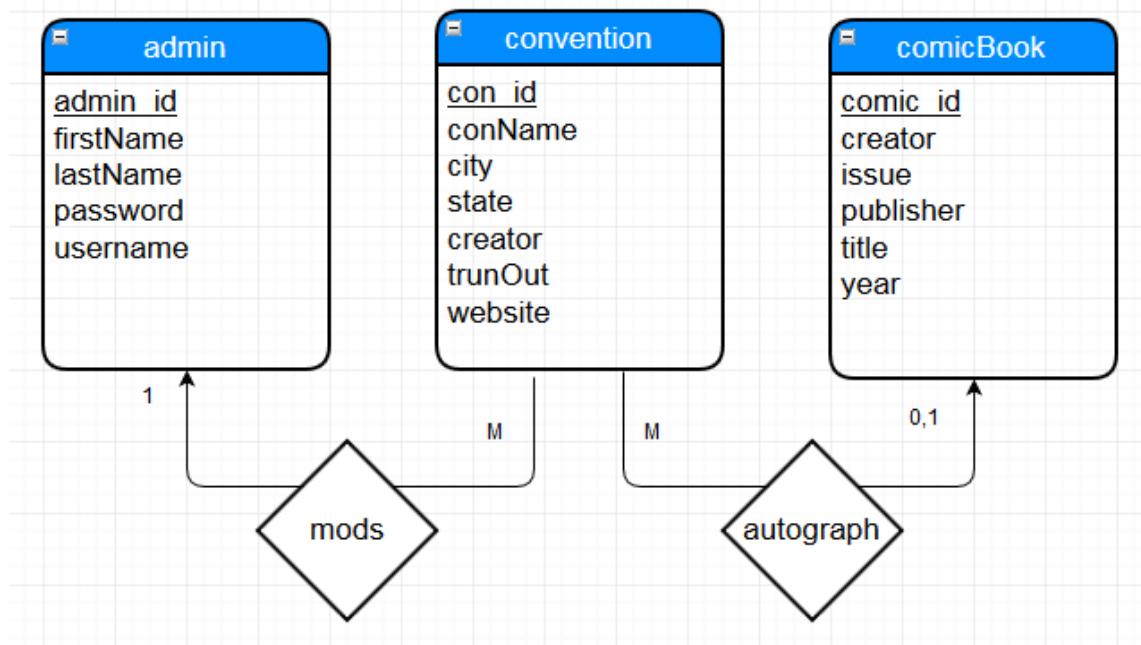

CONVENTIONS

As users browse to the convention page, they are presented with some of the North American comic conventions available. Users are also able to sort through the conventions based on name, creator, location and sort them. Also, they are welcome to get more information from the convention website itself!

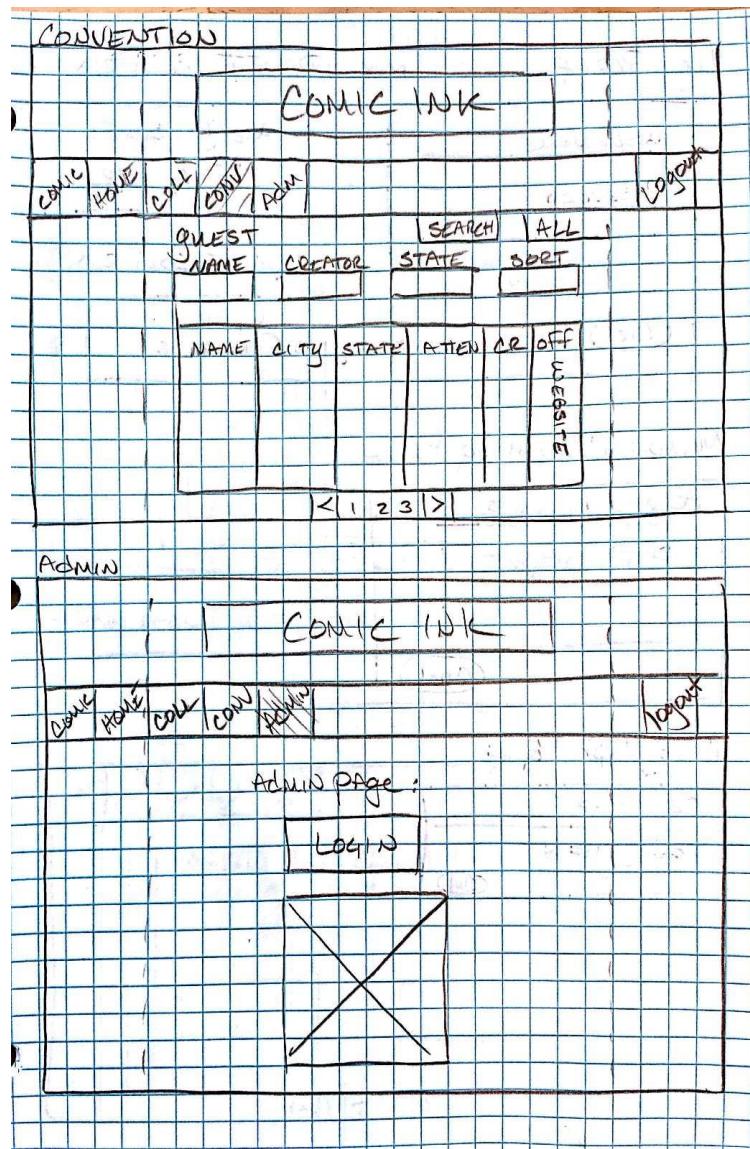

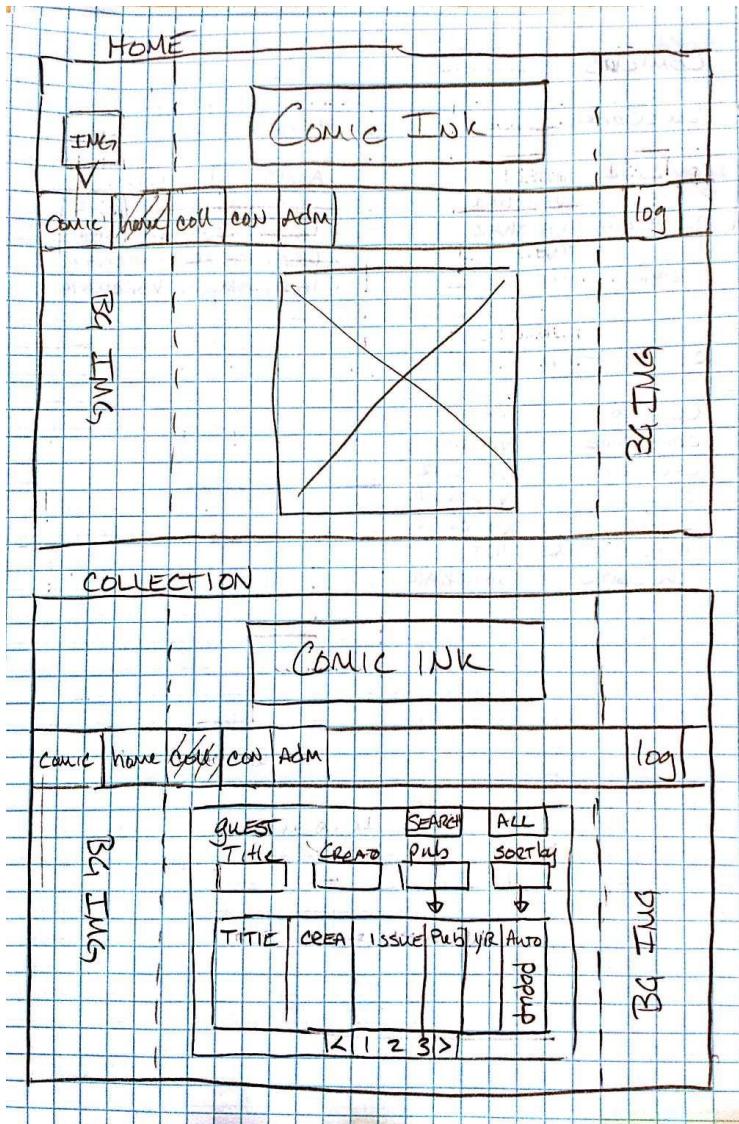

ADMIN

Users who go to the administration portion will have had to registered with Comics Ink. to continue. Once registered, they are given privileges to be able to add new conventions, see some statistics about them, and update or delete the conventions. Admin's who remove a convention should be cautious because this information is not recoverable. All new convention information entered should be complete as possible. The update portion is very user-friendly has the information is persistent and resettable. Administrators are provided with some statistical analysis of the convention that display total attendance, average attendance, number of conventions per state, the total number of conventions, and some specific details of the highest turnout of them all.
